THE RESIDENCE

Chalet Bibi

Occupying a secluded and elevated position among Verbier's finest private homes, Chalet Bibi commands sweeping panoramic views across the surrounding peaks while offering an atmosphere of genuine seclusion. Spanning two hundred and eighty square metres, the chalet accommodates up to nine guests across five bedrooms, blending contemporary design with aged wood, natural stone and soft neutral tones to create an interior that is simultaneously sophisticated and deeply welcoming. For advanced skiers, an off-piste return close to the property from the Savoleyres side adds a rare and coveted convenience, while an underground garage and a well-appointed ski room with boot warmers ensure every arrival and departure is effortlessly smooth.

The first floor is devoted entirely to rest and restoration. Four bedrooms, including two en-suite doubles and a children's bunk room with its own bathroom, open directly onto the terrace, and the dedicated wellness area features a sauna, a hammam and a striking sunken cedar wood outdoor hot tub whose elevated aspect affords what can only be described as exceptional views across the mountains. Aching muscles are soothed, and the outside world retreats entirely.

The top floor serves as the social heart of the chalet, where a generously proportioned open-plan living and dining area gathers around a grand stone fireplace. Plump sofas and a thoughtfully curated collection of eclectic furniture create a space of both elegance and extreme comfort, while large French windows open onto a spacious terrace overlooking the Petit Combin. The kitchen, finished to the highest specification and complemented by a generous bar area, is set discreetly apart from the main living spaces to allow privacy when entertaining, and the dining table seats ten with ease. The master bedroom completes this level, enjoying direct access to the terrace, the outdoor hot tub and serene views across the snow-covered hillside beyond.
