THE RESIDENCE

Brunnenhof 11

Occupying the third floor of the beautifully renovated Brunnenhof residence, Apartment 11 is a masterfully considered retreat in the heart of Lech, accommodating up to ten guests across four elegantly appointed en-suite bedrooms. Spanning 176 square metres, the apartment weaves old-world mountain character together with contemporary refinement, generous reclaimed timber, earthy tones and vivid blue accents lending the interiors a warmth that feels entirely at home amongst the surrounding peaks. A three-sided glass wood-burning fireplace, set into a central column shared by the living and dining spaces, draws guests naturally together, while a charming wooden alcove with bench and antique chairs offers a more intimate corner for quiet evenings. The long dining table, crowned by a striking antler chandelier, seats all ten guests in convivial style.

The four bedrooms each carry the same refined sensibility, with earthy palettes and sophisticated bathrooms throughout. One double bedroom is served by both an en-suite bathroom and a separate shower room, two further double bedrooms open onto private terraces through glass doors, and a spacious bunk room fitted with two sets of adult-sized built-in wooden bunkbeds provides comfortable accommodation for a further four guests, complete with its own generous living area and large bathroom. As residents of the Brunnenhof building, guests of Apartment 11 enjoy shared access to a superb collection of wellness amenities, including an indoor swimming pool, spa, hammam, sauna and treatment room, ensuring that the restorative pleasures of the mountains extend well beyond the slopes.

Brunnenhof 11 is available on a self-catered, bed and breakfast or accommodation-only basis, with a dedicated concierge service on hand daily to assist with every aspect of the stay, from restaurant reservations and ski instruction to private transfers and bespoke in-residence experiences. A single private parking space is included, completing what is a thoroughly considered and deeply appealing base from which to explore all that Lech has to offer.
