THE RESIDENCE

Chalet Altius

Chalet Altius is a newly built, 400-square-metre retreat nestled among fir trees in the peaceful La Renarde quarter of Méribel, positioned just 150 metres from the piste. Clad in warm light wood and dressed with generous floor-to-ceiling windows, the chalet's considered architecture draws the panorama of the Méribel Valley and Mont Vallon directly into every room. Six spacious bedrooms accommodate up to twelve guests in surroundings that balance refined alpine aesthetics with genuine comfort, while elevator access connects every floor with effortless ease.

The principal living spaces are arranged to encourage both convivial gathering and quiet retreat. A soaring vaulted ceiling crowns the main sitting room, where an open fire and uninterrupted valley views create an atmosphere of easy sophistication, while a fully equipped bar with wine fridge and a separate dining room seating all twelve guests provide ideal settings for unhurried evenings together. The master suite occupies the top floor in private seclusion, complete with a dressing room, desk area, freestanding bath, shower, and a private balcony perfectly proportioned for a morning coffee above the peaks. The five further bedrooms on the ground floor, comprising three en-suite doubles, one twin or double configuration, and a double bunk room arranged as a family suite, each open onto a balcony or terrace with commanding mountain views.

Below the main living floors, a dedicated spa and wellness area provides a fitting close to days on the slopes, housing an indoor hot tub, hammam, sauna, massage room, and a fully equipped professional gym. A ski room with heated boot warmers, a laundry room, and an indoor garage for two cars, supplemented by one outdoor parking space, ensure that practical matters are addressed with the same quiet thoroughness as every other detail of the chalet. Priced from EUR 15,510 to EUR 94,020 per week, Chalet Altius is available across a range of service levels, from self-catered independence to fully catered luxury.
