THE RESIDENCE

Chalet Vicuña

Chalet Vicuña is a striking, wholly independent alpine residence in Verbier, Switzerland, accommodating twelve guests across six individually conceived bedrooms, each appointed with en-suite bathrooms dressed in white marble and refined copper finishes. Set in serene seclusion yet just minutes from the Savoylères lift station, Le Rouge piste, the Medran lift station, and the Place Centrale, the chalet offers an exceptional balance of privacy and convenient access to the very best of Verbier's mountain life. The first floor unfolds as a single, generous open-plan living, dining, and kitchen space where three-toned oak flooring, floor-to-ceiling windows, and a double glass-sided fireplace frame sweeping panoramic mountain views. Velvet seating, an avant-garde chandelier, and carefully curated art pieces lend the room a cultured warmth, while the substantial oak dining table and a kitchen island seating eight make the space as naturally sociable as it is beautiful. A thoughtfully partitioned kitchen allows a private chef to work entirely uninterrupted, whilst a second section invites guests to gather for leisurely breakfasts or early evening drinks.

The master bedroom on the top floor is a supremely private retreat, complete with a linear gas fireplace, a south-facing balcony, a dressing room, and an exceptional en-suite featuring a bespoke marble bathtub, a hammam shower, and his-and-hers sinks. A second double bedroom completes this floor, whilst the ground floor presents three double bedrooms and one twin room, each with direct terrace access and elegant en-suite shower rooms, alongside a well-equipped ski and boot room and a dedicated laundry room.

The lower ground floor is devoted entirely to leisure and restoration. A state-of-the-art gymnasium sits alongside a dedicated cinema room dressed in wrap-around white sofas and crowned with intricately carved timber ceilings, complemented by an adjacent wine bar of equal craftsmanship. The spa is truly the jewel of the residence, housing an indoor swimming pool with an integrated hot tub, a plunge pool, a sauna, and a hammam, all bathed in natural light through a generous overhead skylight. A private treatment room for in-house massages and therapies completes this remarkable lower level, ensuring that Chalet Vicuña delivers a genuinely holistic mountain experience of the highest order.
